

About the project

Nowadays the learning activities are no longer related to the traditional face-to-face classroom training and the second language trainers need to adapt to these different settings. Technology is changing the way our society works. It offers us new opportunities and gives us access to sources we could have never imagined before.

Unfortunately, our education system is not flexible enough to apply all these free opportunities. In most of the cases it is very hard for trainers to adapt their teaching plans to their learners' needs. Many trainers find they do not have the necessary skills or time to adapt material to different methods of learning.

This project aims to solve these problems by creating a reference guide for language trainers that will help them to acquire or improve their ICT skills.

The guidebook will show language trainers in a simple and understandable way how to effectively apply modern technology in their training thus providing a more diverse range of learning options.

As a result of the project, trainers will acquire new skills for creating more flexible training strategies based on the usage of digital learning tools. This will be a valuable addition to their skill set and enhance options for career development.

1. Online Catalogue compiling the most relevant digital learning tools in partners' countries
2. A didactical and a technical report of the tools in the online catalogue
3. 5 examples on how to use the tools for language training
4. First testing stage
5. 5 new tools for language teaching
6. Second testing stage
7. Final online guidebook
